

Products to Promote School Spirit

10 products that will rally support whether your fall semester is virtual or in-person.

1

Stainless-Steel Drinkware

This makes a great welcome back gift, whether the students are at school, on campus or starting the semester virtually. Bonus points for personalization! It makes for a nice presentation and prevents accidental sharing.

2

Comfy Socks/Slippers

These are great for dorms and virtual learning.

3

Sweatshirt Blankets

New students will appreciate these virtual hugs before they start classes, and can continue using them at home or bring them to dorms.

4

Collegiate Hoodies

Students will love these as the weather gets colder. They work for both virtual learning and campus life.

5

Masks/Bandannas

Expect schools and colleges to require face coverings for students. Think reusable, breathable ones with the school's logo, or branded for specific clubs and organizations.

6

Portable Hand Sanitizer

Portable sanitizer makes a great handout for returning students, and schools are sure to need no-touch stands in buildings to remind students and staff to keep their hands clean.

7

Counter Guards & Distancing Signage

Floor decals, directional arrows, counter guards for administrative offices and the registrar will all be in high demand for schools welcoming people back for in-person operations.

8

Candy

A nice goodwill gift for students getting ready to go back to school. Sweeten the uncertainty of the situation by adding candy to packages sent directly to students' houses.

9

T-Shirts

Always a hit, they make a perfect welcome item for new student orientations. Also, with a "we're back!" message, they can unify students and teachers during a challenging time whether they're worn virtually or at school.

10

No-Touch Tools

Pair with sanitizer to create an ideal giveaway for returning students to keep germ spread to a minimum.
